WORLD "WANTS."

PRICE ONE CENT.

PRICE ONE CENT.

NEW YORK, WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 7, 1889.

the Famous Club-House.

Says He Saw Suspicious Moves at Clouds of White Canvas at New the Baccarat Table.

Expose Promised at the Long Branch Town Council Meeting This Evening.

The meeting of the Town Council of Long Branch this evening promises to furnish something pretty interesting to numbers of men who seek that resort. Baron de Pardonnet, attached to the French Legation, has told the members of the Council that he will be there and will give them some points about a no less well-known institution at the Branch than Phil Daly's Pennsylvania Club

The Baron is a gambler, "for he himself has said it." He confesses that this is his one expensive pleasure.

"I like it," he said. "The excitement is a pleasant stimulus. I have played in a great many parts of the world. There are several different games that I like, but baccarat is my favorite.

"I began playing at the Pennsylvania Club in the beginning of July. Luck was against me and every week I found myself out a certain amount, perhaps $100 or $150.

"Some of this went at roulette, but the greater part was over baccarat. I lost nearly $5,000; to be exact, say $4,700. I got back $1,000. Three or four hundred went at the $1,000. Three or four hundred went at the roulette wheel. That is all right. I don't say anything about that. The chances are against the player in every gambling game, but when a man loses only on the chances he can't complain, because he takes that risk.

But the stendy loss at baccarat surprised me. When a friend of mine, a German of unquestionable henor, complained to me that he had been swindled at the game my suspicions, already aroused, became naturally much greater, and I kept a particularly watchful eve on the play after that.

"What I saw was enough to make me quit

What I saw was enough to make me quit the game rather abruptly one evening about a week ago. I demanded my money back of Marks. What suspicious act I witnessed will come out later.

"Marks & Jolly, the proprietors of the place, refused to return the money and were very stiff about the thing. I wrote them a note, later, making this demand. They said the was an attempt at blackmail. This expression they have retracted, but they still refuse to give me back my money which I have been swindled out of.

to give me back my money which I have been swindled out of.

"I haven't a word to say about the $400 that I lost at roulette. That's all right. They got it fairly and it was simply my bad luck to lose it, that's all. But the $3,300 that they skinned me out of I mean to get back if I can. If they don't give it up I'll try to get their place shut down on."

The town authorities claim to be simply delighted at finding such a man as the Baron. They say that everybody who makes complaint slumps when it comes to pushing it, preferring to let his money go rather than be exposed to the notoriety which a public investigation would bring about. Baron de Pardonnet says he will stand his ground.

The Baron lodged his complaint with the French Consul, M. Louis Vossion, and also with the Belgian Consul at Philadelphis, Dr. Charles Sajous. He told them he had been swindled at the club-house at Long Branch.

They stirred up Secretary Blaine, he stirred up the town fathers. They have undertaken the contract! to stir up Messrs. Marks & Jolly.

These gentlemen, so far, haven't stirred up

Jolly.

These gentlemen, so far, haven't stirred up worth a cent. They are as placid as a mill-pond. They claim that the Baron hasn't lost more than $600, and that they hold checks and notes of his to the tune of a thousand dollars.

dollars.

Everybody will be glad to see the thing thoroughly sifted. The Long Branch rambling-house of Phil Daly is one of the loudest in the country. If there is any funny business carried on there it is time to have the fleecers despoiled of their shears so that a lamb may have some show for his wool.

Baron de Pardonnet seems to have the nerve to face them, and has already acquired such publicity by the measures already instigated through his vigorous kick that it seems probable that he will face the music and see the thing through.

There is no gambling game where more the thing through.

There is no gambling game where more money can be lost and is lost, or made, than baccarat. A gentleman certainly has a right to demand that he shall blow in his thousands at a perfectly straight game, Marks & Jolly say theirs is that kind.

[SPECIAL TO THE WORLD. ] Lenox, Mass., Aug. 7.-Another exciting hare-and-hounds chase was run here yester-The hares were Mr. Woodruff Haven and Miss Jean Turnure. The hounds were Hon. Henry Edwardes, the acting British Minister; Mrs. Mary Turnure, Miss Ives, Miss Parsons, Messrs. Carter, John E. Parsons, Dr. Hopkins and William Gray. The chase was ten miles through the Woolsey woods to Lebanon and return over the mountain. The ten miles wers covered in forty-five minutes, the quickest on record. Miss Turnure came near getting thrown. She dismounted and Dr. Hopkins assisted her. The hares were overtaken in the last mile after a most lively chase.

Bicyclists Run Down in the Park

George P. Hulbert, of the New York Club, and John T. Miley, of the Lambs' Club, were driving on the Central Drive, opposite Sixty-ninth street and Ninth avenue, in Central Park at 9 o'clock last night. A young man and a young foman were riding a bicycle, going in an opposite direction, and at a little turn in the road a collistion took place. The bicyclists were thrown to the ground and their machine smashed. The young man had one of his knees badly hurt, and both were a good deal scared. He said his name was Isidore Loewenstein, of No. 132 East Fifty-ninth street. The club men were put under arrest, but on packing astifactory explanation. making satisfactory explanations tte discharged.

Think They Have Tate.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Aug. 7.—A telegram was received here yesterday from Scottsborough, Ala., stating that James W. late, the defaulting State Treasurer, had been arrested there to day. There is $5,000 reward for his arrest and delivery. To-morrow Gov. Buckner will write a full description of Tate and send a good photograph of him to the efficers of Scottsborough, and if they believe he is Tate an ag nt will be appointed to bring him to Frankfort. Several times since Tate's flight such telegrams have been received.

par week. This places a gold watch for 31 kil. No one can say they cannot afford it; only $38; by making a small cash payment and $1 per week the watch is delivered at one. Mirrar & Co., 196 Breadway, reem 14, New York, N.Y.

HOT AFTER DALY'S, TO SAIL FOR PRIZES.

Baron de Pardonnet Alleges Swindling at | The New York Yacht Club's Fleet Gathered for Its Cruise.

London This Morning.

The Competitions Begin To-Morrow and Many Fleet Sailors Are Entered.

PRECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD, )

New London, Conn., Aug. 7 .- The New York Yacht Club starts on its annual cruise from here to-morrow, and judging from the number of yachts in the harbor the cruise bids fair to be a brilliant succes. Early this morning the big fleet was astir, and huge clouds of snow-white canvas were fluttering from spars, being overhauled and put in the best possible shape for the run. Newport will be the point to which the yachts will racs to-morrow, and it is pretty certain that over seventy yachts will start. Commodore Gerry's steam yacht Electra carries the Regatta Committee and the newspaper men.

The start will be made at 11 o'clock from Sea Flower Reef, and the finish time will be taken off the "Dumplings." This will make a thirty-five mile race.

The new Burgess steel schooner Constellaion will make her maiden appearance, and from all accounts is going to make the others in her class hustle along very lively. The Titania and Katrina will meet again, and the forty-footers will keep up the fight for the supremacy that was commenced early in the season.

n the season.

in the season.

Off Newport, on the 9th inst., the race for the Goelet Cups, one each for schooners and sloops, will be sailed.

On the 10th the fleet will set sail for Vineyard Haven, and on the 12th the race for the cups offered by the Martha's Vineyard Association will be sailed.

On the 13th the fleet goes to New Bedford, and there the vacht gigs will row for the Owl and Gamecock colors, and then the fleet will return to N wport.

Races will be sailed here for prizes offered by the Club.

by the Club.

The Club also offers prizes for each run, so the cruise will be a complete round of

The 40-footers of the fleet will be The 40-footers of the fleet will be put in racing trim in Newport to sail in the Corinthian Club Sweepstakes race, which comes off on Aug. 19. There are nine entries, and this race will be one of the best of the season. It is not positively known how many yachts will start, but it is almost certain that the following will cross the starting line to-morrow:

SCHOONERS.

First Class—Constellation, Dauntless, Fleetwing, Intrepid, Mohican, Norseman, Palmer, Ramons, Wanderer.
Second Class—Madeleine, Montauk, Norna, Fortuna.

Third Class—Atlantic, Elma, Iroquois, Mayflower, Sea Fox, Atlanta, Grayling, Merlin, Sachem, Wave Crest, Fourth Class—Halcyon, Marguerite.
Fifth Class—Halcyon, Marguerite, Fifth Class—Agnes, Azales, Clio, Curlew, Fenelia, Harbinger, Quickstep, Tiogs, Whim.

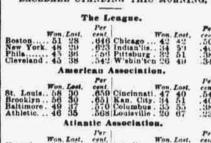

SLOOPS AND CUTTERS.

First Class—Puritan. SCHOONERS.

First Class—Puritan.
Third Class—Bedouin, Gracie, Titania, Fanny, Katrina, Pocahontas,
Fourth Class—Athlon, Hildegarde, Thistle,
Whilesway, Dare, Meduas, Vivid, Wizard,
Fith Class—Adelaide, Cinderella, Concord,
Bertie, Clars, Isis, Montecito,
Seventh Class—Marionita, Tomahawk, Liris, Saracen, Nymph, Gorila, Papoose.

STEAM VACHUE. Electra, Fedalms, Corsair, Unquowa, Oneida, Susquehanna, Stranger.

BASEBALL STANDING THIS MORNING.

Won Lost, Per Won Lost, Newark 36 27 571 Lowell 26 38 Worcester 38 30 545 New Haven 24 39 Hartford 38 30 545 A Year Ago To-Day. New York 53 28 654 84. Louis 53 27 Chicago 48 12 Coo Athletic 53 37 Petroit 4 2 Coo Athletic 50 30 Petroit 50 4 2 Coo Athletic 50 30 Petroit 50 50 Petroit 50 Petr AMERICAN ABB'N

Baseball To-Day. THE LEAGUE.

New York at Chicago, Boston at Indianapolis, Pricadelphia at littsburg, Washington at Cleveland, AMERICAN ASSOCIATION. Brooklyn at Columbus. Baltimore at Philadelphia. Cincinnati at Louisville. St. Louis at Kansas City.

ATLANTIC ASSOCIATION. Worcester at New Haven. Lowell at Hartford.

Tunnelled Their Way to Freedom.

LA PORTE, Ind., Aug. 7. -Henry Shoemaker. William Van Adken, Hubley Volhelm and John Doe made a daring escape from the county jail Monday by tunnelling through the rear wall. They were confined on the upper floor, and low-ered themselves to the ground with a rope made from their blankets, which was strengthened with twine taken from a hammock. The escape was discovered shortly after the occurrence, and the two first named were recaptured in a piece of woods a few miles from the city. The others are still at large.

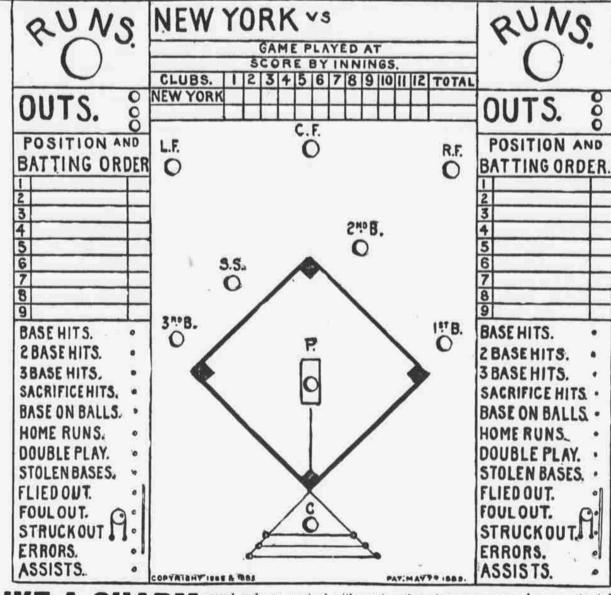

Whirled in the Machinery.

Adam Gesner, a weaver in the Liberty Silk Works at No. 615 West Fifty-second street, met with a fearful death vesterday. While putting belt on the shaft that was making 114 revolutions a minute he was caught fast in it and sions a minute ne was caught last in it and whirled around and dashed against the ceiling for fully twenty seconds. After the machinery was stopped he lived half an hour. Gesuer was thirty years old. He was a weaver and had no business, his employers insist, to meddle with the belt, special men being employed to handle the machinery.

Death of Jack Dempsey's Father.

Jack Dempsey's father, Patrick Dempsey, died last night at his home. 93 Wythe avenue, Brooklyn. Jack. who is in San Francisco, has been notified by telegraph. His mother died about a year ago.

EVENING WORLD BASE BALL BULLETIN.

Our Wonderful New Baseball Automata Worked to Perfection.

"Perfection" is the word which expresses he verdict of the baseball public who had he good fortune to witness the game between the New York Giants and Baby Anson's team on THE EVENING WORLD's baseball bulletin board yesterday afternoon.

board yesterday afternoon.

Yesterday afternoon's performance was the first regular game on the board, the game played the day previous being a trial game to test the working of the machinery, and it is safe to say that no exhibition was ever received in this city with more enthusiasm than was the baseball bulletin.

And the crowd, too! What a vast number! There must have been fully 10,000 people in the audience, and the way they cheered when the Gants made a run was a sound that would have made Baby Anson sick.

The crowd began to congregate in front of There was a building long before 4 o'clock, across home plate. Then there was a volley the cheering.

After a few preliminary ariangements the capter bullet no perator placed the Chicago men in the field, and Gore was put to bat. When he slid down to first base the crowd were just ready to cheer, but they saw him put out and they reserved their applause for another occasion.

They did not have long to wait, however, for Tiernan and Ewing cach succeeded in gaining bases, and then big Roger Connor was placed over home plate.

The crowd held its breath in anticipation of what was to come. Their enthusiasm was drawn up to a high pitch, and was just waiting for a chance to break its bounds. And the disapproval resolved itself into a continued grown. The score was tied, and the New Yorkers felt real bad, Then they were pleased to see men go out with a runh.

After a few preliminary plays Ward and O'Rourke scored on Gore's safe hit, and then there was the wildest excitement and cheering.

After a few preliminary plays Ward and O'Rourke scored on Gore's safe hit, and then there was the wildest excitement and cheering that had been heard during the afternoon. The howls of delight continued to go up from the throats of the assembled multitude for almost five multitud although they knew that the game would not begin until some time after 4, 30 o'clock, but they wanted to get choice positions and didn't care how long they had to stand. and when the handsome operator-in-chief mounted the platform he was instantly recog-

AN INSANE MAN FOUND.

Young Sonborn, Who Escaped from His

Physician, Recaptured this Morning. Meyer Sonborn, the young Brooklyn merhant who, while insane, escaped from his physician, Dr. Charles D. Purdy, on Fourteenth street yesterday, was found in the street at 3 o'clock this morning by a policeman of the Twenty-eighth Precinct.
Young Souborn was formerly in the tea business, and resides at 337 Sackett street, Brook-

He has been suffering with a mental ailment for the last eighteen months, which caused him to talk on no other subject but business. He was in the care of Dr. Purdy, of 56 Pulaski street, Brooklyn, with whom he lived for the past three mouths.

Dr. Purdy came to this city yesterday to attend to some lungers and brought he retained.

tend to some business, and brought his patient with him for a walk.

While the declar was engaged in conversation While the doctor was engaged in conversation at 6 East Fourteenth street, Sonborn slipped out and remained at large until this morning.

A Woman Is First to Be Sentenced. IMPRCIAL TO THE WORLD, 1

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Aug. 7.—The first com-plaint in this city under the Scheffer law, which makes drunkenness a crime, was entered yesterday in the Municipal Court. The culprit was an day in the Municipal Court. Ane culprit was an aged woman with a refined face. Her name was registered as Elien Maxwell. She pleaded not guilty and began to offer an explanation about trouble in her household. The Judge said: 'I could do nothing for you if I saw fit." The woman was sentenced to ten days in the county jail, as she had no money

He Cannot Land Without a Better Mind. Among the immigrants recently reported to ollector Erhardt by the Emigration Board as liable to become a public charge one displays a remarkable to become a public charge one displays a re-markable persistency in trying to get through Ca-tle Garden. His name is Henry J. Dougherty. He is of unacound mind, and for this reason was returned to Europe less than a month ago. He arrived again a few days ago but his eccen-tricities brought him to the attention of the Commissioners. He was again detained, and yesterday President Ridgway received word from the Deputy Collector that Dougherty would not be permitted to land.

Cremated an Unclaimed Skeleton. [SPECIAL TO THE WORLD. ]

ASBURY PARK, Aug. 7.—The bones of a human skeleton found on the beach were cremated by order of Founder Bradley in the big furnace at the Asbury avenue bathing houses. Mr. Bradley is a strong advocate of cremation and took this means to dispose of the skeleton. Whence the skeleton came or what unfortunate victim of the storm's fury it may have belonged to, is an unsolved mystery.

nized and was received with great enthusiasm.

A great many people were attracted to the spot by the cries of the crowd, and when they awe the baseball bulletin they all united in declaring it to be the greatest thing they had The crowd had been gathering all this time, until the street was well-nigh impassable, and the score of policemen had all they could do to clear a passageway through they could do to clear a passageway through the throng.

At that time there was a large crowd on the east side of Park Row, extending from above The World building to far belowit. On the west side of the street the crowd was much larger. There was a long line of people from Mail street almost down to the other end of the big Federal building.

No point from which the game could be witnessed was left vacant. The boys climbed up and lodged themselves in among the pillars of the Post-Office and on the roof of the sterm doors.

the sterm doors.

Even the lamp-post was monopolized by the urchins, and when our boys made a good play they generally led the cheering.

The crowd held its breath in anticipation of what was to come. Their enthusiasm was drawn up to a high pitch, and was just waiting for a chance to break its bounds. And they got it: The little red disk representing Connor slid up to first and Tiernan slid across home plate. Then there was a volley of cheers. It broke forth clear and strong, and the sound could be heard blooks away. Up on the tops of the tall buildings in the neighborhood the cheers of the crowd could be heard resounding forth as a victorious army returning from battle.

And it was the same all through the game.

AWED BY SILVER DOLLAR.

EYE-GOUGING TACTICS A GREAT SUCCESS IN THE EIGHTH.

This afternoon the work of reorganizing the Republicans of the Eighth Assembly District is being concluded at Golden Rule Hall, 125 Rivington street.

At the same time, Assemblyman Charles "Silver Dollar "Smith is summoned to appear before Police Justice P. Gavan Duffy, in Essex Market Police Court, to answer the complaint of Customs Inspector Samuel Roberts, whose eye the ig Assemblyman gouged out the first night of

This smart little political trick of eye-gouging of which Smith is the proud inventor, has proven most offective in dampening the reformerdor of the Commission which Col. Cruger tent into O'Brien's district to purge it of ardor of the Commission which Col. Gruger sent into O'Brien's district to purge it of O'Brien's, punishment served as a reminder to others who might desire to prove traitors to the interests of the Republican boss fof the Eighth that such action on their nart would be dangerous, and the result was that last night the Committee had no anti-O'Brien adviser to replace the wounded Inspector.

They resigned themselves to the inevitable and accepted and enrolled everybody who presented himself and who, by his answers to their questions, appeared to be qualified as a Republican.

questions, appeared to be squanded a contented sean.

O'Brien was on hand and smiled a contented smile as he saw his "bhoys" stream in to have their names recorded.

A similar quiet scene is expected this evening, and O'Brien is satisfied that, no matter what the Committee does in the way of revising the roll, it cannot eliminate enough of his supporters to prevent his capturing the organization at the primaries.

prevent his capturing the organization at the primaries.

Smith still insists that his attack on Roberts was made in self-defense, and when he steps across the street from his gorgeous gin palace to answer Roberts's charge it will be with the confident expectation of returning exonerated of biame by the decision of the Court.

It is strongly hinted too, that Roberts, if he persists in pushing the charge against Smith, will be arrested on a counter charge of assault as the aggressor in the matter, and come out of the legal battle as badly battered as he was in the alleged physical encounter.

MANAGER PHILLIPS WORSE.

Private Telegram Reports Him as Sinking Rapidly.

ISPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD. 1 PITTSBURG, Aug. 7. - A private telegram from Philadelphia announces that Manager Horace | Phillips is much worse and sinking rapidly.

ever seen.

The Giants continued to knock out runs, which were duly recorded ou the bulletin a few minutes later, and the crowd of baseball levers continued to show their enthusiasm lovers continued to show their enthusiasm and appreciation.

When the ninth inning was reached everybody's spirits ran high. The New Yorks had seven runs recorded on their side, to which was added another run before they went out. Then the cheers of the crowd broke out and continued to resound for several minutes, until they saw the bases filled by Chicago men. Things began to look serious. When a man came sliding over the plate there was a mild protest on the part of the crowd, but when they saw man after man come home the disapproval resolved itself into a continued groan. The score was tied, and the New Yorkers felt real bad. Then they were pleased to see men go out with a rush.

Everybody was carried away with enthusi-asm. The New Yorks had won and all were happy.

To-day's game between the Chicagos and
To-day's game between the Chicagos and To day's game between the Chicagos and the New Yorks will be duly recorded on the board. There is room for everybody to see, and it is expected that the crowd will be twice as large as yesterday.

A GIRL'S DESPERATE FIGHT. the Resists the Efforts to Take Her from Her Banger Lover.

BANGOR, Me., Aug. 7.—Mande, or Blanche Abbott, who created a sensation in this city some two weeks ago by shooting herself because her people wanted to take her away from Herpert J. Sprague, a Bangor man, and make her marry a Bucksport swain, has now caused much nore excitement in Bangor.

Her father and mother came up from Bucksport yesterday to take her home. Legal permission having been obtained, the City Marshal and two policemen sallied forth to City Marshaland two volicemen salided forth to storm the Sprague domicile.

The first officer who entered caught a stinging blow on the face which brought first blood for Surague, but finally the lover was subdued, and then came a struggle with the girl.

She fought like a young demon, but was carried downstairs and packed into a carriage.

When the boat wharf was reached she braced herself in the back seat of the carriage with an immovable front seat, and they found it impossible to move her without injuring her severely.

Two more officers were called, and they tried to move her from the carriage, but she fought so hard that the boat people decided that she had better be taken home with a team, as they wanted no scete on the steamer. had better be taken home with a team, as they wanted no scene on the steamer.

Finally the policemen statted to move her from one carriage to another, but she was still game and left one of them with scratches upon his face which brought blood.

At the same time she bit her father's hands until they were running with blood.

At last she was successfully transferred, after a scene of which the equal had never been seen in this city.

A PRECIOUS MASS AFLOAT.

The Crew of a Maine Schooner Picks Up $25,000 Worth of Ambergris.

[SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD ] PORTLAND, Me., Aug. 7.—The schooner Fanny Lewis, belonging to Lewis, Rase & Whitten, which arrived yesterday, brought in a rare While off Monhegan Capt, Henderson saw something white floating on the water. A dory was lowered, and several of the crew A dory was lowered, and several of the crew jumped into it and pulled for the object, which seemed to be a mass of dough.

The men took it to the vessel. It was put away in a barrel, and on arriving at the port the owners were told it was ambergris.

Eamples were sent to New York to be tested. It is used in making the fluest kind of perfume and retails for about $100 am ounce.

The mass weighs 100 pounds and therefore would be worth a matter of $25,000. This sum will be divided among the owners and the crew.

WILL FIGHT IT OUT.

Mrs. Flack in New York to Break That

The Story of Her Escape as Told to Mrs. Bingham, Her Niece.

Some Reputable Lawyer Will Be Retained to Present Her Case.

Shortly after 7 o'clock this morning a back drove up in front of the little brown frame house at 322 East Eighty-sixth street and stopped.

A moment or two afterwards the front door of the house opened and a tall, stout lady, dressed in black and closely veiled, came out. After an affecting leave-taking with another lady on the doorstep, the veiled lady went quickly down to the sidewalk, entered the cab, and having pulled down the curtains was driven swiftly away. The mysterious lady whom several of the neighbors watched with so much curiosity and interest from their windows was the wife of Sheriff Flack, who escaped from the tyranny of her son William, who has been keeping her under surveillance at Newburg ever since the scandal came out, and who came to town last night. The house belonged to her niece, Mrs. S. D. Bingham, who had arranged the plan by which her aunt should break away from the which her aunt should break away from the influence of those who have been restraining her of her liberty and endeavoring by threats to compel her silence and acquiescence in the divorce, which her husband and son conspired to obtain for her.

As soon as it was noised about that Mrs. Flack was staying with her niece the whole neighborhood was aroused, for several knew of the little scheme beforetand.

The morning papers confirmed the report, and the greatest satisfaction was expressed on all sides over the success of the attempt, while every one was indignant that the poor lady should have been obliged to suffer so much ill-treatment from her own son and her husband as to compel her to secretly flee them in order to obtain her rights.

A CHAIN ON THE FRONT DOOR.

them in order to obtain her rights.

A CHAIN ON THE FRONT DOOR.

Mrs. Bingham was at home this morning when the reporter of THE EVENING WORLD called at the house. She was expecting reporters, evidently, for the chain on the inside of the door was fastened and it could only be opened three or four inches.

"Mrs. Flack isn't here now," she said, "and I can't tell you where she is, for she didn't tell me where she was going."

"Does she propose to begin proceedings right away?"

PROPOSES TO BRING PROCEEDINGS AT ONCE. "Yes, that's what she came here for, to reopen that divorce suit. She knew she could never do anything so long as she was in the power of her son, and so she came to

Has she retained a lawyer yet?" "No, she has seen no one yet, but all that will be attended to to-day."
"She will not employ Mr. Benjamin Wright, her former counsel, to look after the case?"

SOME BEPUTABLE LAWYER. "I should say not," replied Mrs. Bingham indignantly. "I don't know whom she will engage, but it will be some good, honest, reputable lawyer, who will see that she gets her

Has Mrs. Flack any other relatives in

"Has Mrs. Flack any other relatives in town to whom she could go?"

"No, all her relatives are out of town this Summer except myself. She has a great many friends, however, who will see that her interests are fully taken care of,"

"How about the assertion made by her son William that she had admitted that she applied for the divorce?"

"It's all false, every word of it. Mrs. Flack never admitted any such thing, and says now, as she always has since the first news of the matter reached her ears, that she had nothing whatever to do with the proceedings and did not want to get a divorce.

"She would never consent to such a thing,

"She would never consent to such a thing, and?the cruelest thing about the whole matter is the attempt which her own family has made to make her out an intemperate woman and one who is insane. THE NIECE CALLS IT OUTRAGEOUS. "It is positively outrageous, but she knows her own mind, and now that she is free once more she is going to have the whole case thoroughly ventilated."

Mr. Bingham is a milk dealer, whose stables are at Avenue B and Eighty-sixth street. He was not at home when the reporter first called, but he came in later.

New Summer Diversions.

[From the Detroit Pribune.] Just now the question of entertaining our guests arises very often. To go yachting day after day with no new diversion is a doubtful smusement in t me, and the person who knows something fresh is generally hailed as a blessing when scenery is familiar and conversation grows languid under a hot sun. "Yacthing portraits" are a novelty and may prove quite amusing. The hostess produces an album, and every guest has to draw the picture of his nearest right-hand paighbor. There must be no refusals on the draw the picture of his nearest light-hand neighbor. There must be no refusals on the score of inability, as, if the sketches were all done well, the fun would lessen in proportion to their accuracy. It is exquisitely humorous to the remainder of the party to witness the anguish of their most accomplished oarsman or tennis player, utterly vanquished by a pencil and endeavoring to correct the caricature his fingers have unwillingly made of the profile belonging to the fair one who sets next to him. Each portrait must be signed by the artist and bear the original's name also. By the end of the scason the hostess will possess an odd collecseason the hostess will possess an odd collection of drawings. A simple game that is more fun than it a consistor each person to recite in turn any little verse he pleases and coun-aloud each word as he goes, without hesitating or wrongly emphasizing. It does not appear difficult to say fivently, "Mary (one) had (iwo) a (three) little (tour) lamb (five)," &c., but the result generally contradicts the She is about forty-five years old, and has supposition.

No Nuisance in the Fruit Stands. The recent notices issued by the Bureau of Incumbrances, ordering the fruit stands in the vicinity of Washington Market to be removed in five days, has made but little commotion among the "squatters." The Bureau acted on the advice of the Health Department. An inspection, however, in Vesey, Barclay and Washington streets shows that the fruit stands seem to be kept remarkably clean, and the outcry is really from the regular sellers in and about Washington Market who find that the former can undersell them.

MRS. MAYBRICK GUILTY.

2 O'CLOCK.

So the Jury Declares in Its Verdict of This Morning.

This Result of the Sensational Trial Received with Surprise.

it Was Generally Felt that the Woman Could Not Be Convicted.

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE EVENING WORLD.] LIVERPOOL, Aug. 7. -The jury in the case of Mrs. Florence Maybrick, charged with the murder of her husband by poison, re-turned a verdict this morning finding the defendant guilty of the crime charged.

The verdict was almost entirely unexpected. as the general opinion had been that the woman would be acquitted.

DRANK CHLOROFORM.

Sad Death of Hugo Pollitz, a Prosperous Furrier.

Hugo Pollitz, forty-eight years old, a prosperous furrier at 10 Bond street, died at his home, 155 East Ninety-second street, shortly after midnight this morning from chloroform poisoning.

Mr. Pollitz had, from his youth been troubled with nervous headaches, and had found relief from the pain, if not a cure, in the dangerous drug. Familiarity lad made him careless in its use. Constantly larger doses were required, too, to produce sleep, as the headaches increasedlin frequency and violence. Lately he suffered from them three or four days every week, and the poison had become his constant companion. His room was filled with empty half-ounce bottles, but the death-head on the label had lost its terror for the suffer-empty half-ounce bottles, but the desth-head on the label had lost its terror for the suffering man.

Testerday he awoks in the grasp of h's old enemy. The clerk that opened the nearest Third avenue drug store found Mr. Pollitz's servant waiting for 10 cents worth of chloroform. She came back three times during the morning and evening with similar orders. Mr. Pollitz had returned early, after a brief visit at his store, to nurse his headache.

At 3 o'clock he shut himself in his room with orders that no one should wake him. Sleep was coming to his worried brain at last. His wife left him undisturbed until 9 o'clock, when she went to wake nim with a bowl of soup. She found him senseless, all but dead in bed. Sleep had come indeed, with freedom forever from pain. Mrs. Pollitz expired without a groan.

A despatch was sent to the dead man's son, who is enjoying a vacation in the Highlands. Mother and daughter sat alone by the deathbed through the long night.

The Pollitzes were married twenty-two years ago in Rhenish Prussia, and were happy together.

TWO MRS. EDGECOMBS. No. 1 Visiting Alone, No. 2 On Her Wedding Trip to Europe. ISPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD. HARTFORD, Conn., Aug. 7.-A notice in the

New York papers of the marriage of Daniel

W. Edgecomb to Miss Elizabeth Seymour, a wealthy lady of Brooklyn, has caused a sensation in Newington, a suburb of this city, where Mrs. Edgecomb No. 1 is still living. Mr. Edgecomb was formerly in business in this city, as general agent of the National Insurance Company, and lived in a handsome cottage at Newington. He was somewhat of a Republican politician, and in 1872 was Assistant Secretary of State, serving as Secretary of State for twelve days to fill a vacancy.

He was a thorough business man, but dabbled in astronomy as a pastime.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgecomb had one of the pleasantest homes in the town, Mr. Edgecomb being a leader in social and church works.
Suddenly he became an agnostic and believer in free love doctrines, and was much displeased because his wife did not come to his way of thinking. Instead of sharing his views she openly denounced them, and this caused trouble in the family, which resulted in his leaving town.

After a separation of a few years, Mr. Edgecomb was anxious to secure a divorce, but his wife refused to file an application for one, and as he had no ground ask for one they still remain husband and wife.

He contributed more or less regularly to her support through a lawyer, who has kept Mr. Edgecomb's headquarters a secret to the wife.

Mrs. Edgecomb's friends assert that she marriage and brand her ausonad as a bigsmist.

She is about forty-five years old, and has many friends in Newington and this city.
She is now visiting in Chester, this State.
According to the New York papers, Mr.
Edgecomb, up to June 1, was of the law firm of Pope, Edgecomb & Ter. y, 11 Wall street,
On that date the firm was dissolved; Mr.
Edgecomb retiring.

Edgecomb retiring.

The marriage was very private, not even his patrons knowing of his nutrials until the day after the bridal couple salled on the steamer Columbia for a two years' trip to Europe.

The bride is said to be wealthy. Mr. Edge-comb passed for a widower in New York and occupied rooms in Williamsburg.